

TORUS PELLETT

The Altech Torus pellet stove is a sleek, freestanding pellet stove that does not require power. This is because the Torus features a pellet burner equipped with a primary and secondary aeration system. This aeration system causes the gas from the pellets to be burnt at the top of the unit, resulting in wonderful flames. The aeration system is completely natural, and this pellet stove does not have any fans. As a result, the Altech Torus pellet stove does not require power, is incredibly quiet and is not susceptible to malfunctions.
